If answer is no, identify report(s).

Yes No

- (3) Is it anticipated that any significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report or portion thereof?

Yes No

If so, attach an explanation of the anticipated change, both narratively and quantitatively, and, if appropriate, state the reasons why a reasonable estimate of the results cannot be made.

The Company did not generate any revenue for the three-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006. We generated revenue of $22,000 and incurred cost of goods sold of $5,360 for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007, compared to $-0- and $-0-, respectively, for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006.

The Company expects to report that operating expenses were $873,971 for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007, compared to $1,718,614 for the three-month period ended September 30, 2006, a decrease of $844,643. This decrease is attributable to decreases in non-cash expenses of $591,646 and cash expenses of $252,997. Specifically, the non-cash decrease is attributable to the revaluation of options and warrants given to employees and consultants ($592,982), partially offset by an increase in depreciation ($1,336). Decreases in cash expenses are attributable to decreases in travel expenses ($89,591), consulting and professional fees ($80,367), office and other expenses ($43,783), exhibits and trade shows ($39,595), and corporate expenses ($22,999), partially offset by an increase in salaries and benefits ($23,338).

The Company expects to report that operating expenses were $3,177,533 for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007, compared to $5,326,222 for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006, a decrease of $2,148,689. This decrease is attributable to a decrease in non-cash expenses of $2,173,192, offset by an increase in cash expenses of $24,503. Specifically, the non-cash decrease is attributable to the revaluation of options and warrants given to employees and consultant ($2,227,346), partially offset by an increase in depreciation ($54,154). Increases in cash expenses are attributable to increases in consulting and professional fees ($108,540), and salaries and benefits ($54,197), office and other expenses ($31,709), partially offset by decreases in travel expenses ($121,198) and corporate expenses ($42,378) exhibits and trade shows ($6,367).

The Company expects to report that research and development expenses were $98,427 for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007, compared to $95,608 for the three-month period ended September 30, 2006, an increase of $2,819. This increase is attributable to an increase in product testing, research and supplies ($41,737) partially offset by decreases in consulting fees ($23,597), and travel and related expenses ($15,321).

The Company expects to report that research and development expenses were $539,610 for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007, compared to $274,713 for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006, an increase of $264,897. This increase is attributable to an increase in product testing, research and supplies ($392,945), partially offset by decreases in consulting fees ($86,784) and travel and related expenses ($41,264).

The Company expects to report that other expense for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 were $645,454, compared to $146,803 for the three-month period ended September 30, 2006, an increase of $498,651. This increase is attributable to increases in non-cash interest expense ($331,573), cash interest expense ($14,940), financing costs ($148,455) and a decrease in interest income ($5,954), offset by an increase in other income ($2,271).

The Company expects to report that other expense for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 were $1,358,893, compared to $2,349,620 for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006, a decrease of $990,727. This decrease is attributable to decreases in non-cash interest expense ($1,318,258), cash interest expense ($71,479), and an increase in other income ($2,323), partially offset by an increase in financing cost ($388,453), and a decrease in interest income ($12,880).

The Company expects to report a net loss of $1,617,852, or $0.04 per share, for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007, compared to a net loss of $1,961,025, or $0.05 per share, for the three-month period ended September 30, 2006. The Company expects to report a net loss of $5,060,196, or $0.13 per share, for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007, compared to a net loss of $7,951,355, or $0.23 per share, for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006. The Company expects to report that it will incur additional net loss in the fiscal year ending December 31, 2007, primarily attributable to continued operating and marketing-related expenditures without the benefit of any significant revenue for the remainder of the year.
